THE LEGISLATURE.

Speed to the Gazette.

MADISON, March 22.—The joint resolution forbidding any place with less than five thousand inhabitants incorporating as a city, was ordered to a third reading.

Bills appropriating two thousand dollars to the State and one thousand dollars to the Northern fairs, were concurred in.

Also appropriating four thousand dollars for experiments in amber cane.

SENATE.

In the Senate W. W. Reed was unanimously confirmed as a member of the board of charities and reform.

A bill passed allowing the general accident insurance companies to do business in this State.

The bill repealing the law making insanity a ground for divorce was ordered to a third reading.

For weak lungs, spitting of blood, shortness of breath, consumption, night sweats, and all lingering coughs, use Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery," a sovereign remedy. Superior to cod liver oil. By Druggists.

VILLAGE DEMOLISHED.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 21.—The Democrat's special from Arkansas City says: Terrene, at the mouth of the White and Mississippi rivers, caved in last night. Mat Ezell lost his store and saloon. William Ezell lost his store; Zeller lost his store. Gooderlate lost his saloon. The coal fleet is safe. No lives were lost, and the buildings were of but little value.

"Female Complaints."

Dr. R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.: Dear Sir—I was sick for six years, and could scarcely walk about the house. My breath was short and I suffered from pain in my breast and stomach all the time; also from palpitation and an internal fever, or burning sensation, and experienced frequent smothering or choking sensations. I also suffered from pain low down across my bowels and in my back, and was much reduced in flesh. I have used your "Golden Medical Discovery" and Favorite Prescription, and that I am well.

Very respectfully,
DELLAH B. McMillan, Arlington, Georgia.

JAMES GATES PERCIVAL.

GALENA, Ill., March 21.—Another effort is being made to raise funds to erect a monument over the grave of the poet James Gates Percival in the cemetery at Hazel Green, Wis., ten miles from this city. One plan contemplates a series of lectures by local talent—the preachers, teachers, lawyers, editors and others of the lead region of Wisconsin, Illinois, and Iowa—the proceeds to be used for the purpose specified. The people of Wisconsin entertain for Percival's memory profound respect, and had there been concert of action, a suitable monument would long ere this have been erected over his remains. Although unmarked save by a simple tablet, the villagers of Hazel Green, where Percival spent his last days, have looked after his grave with scrupulous care, and will contribute liberally toward the monument fund.

OBITUARY.

MILWAUKEE, March 21.—The death of M. B. Medbury, an old and highly respected member of the Chamber, was announced to-day with appropriate resolutions.

APPOINTMENT.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Cyrus Bingham was today appointed postmaster at Aurelia, Miner, county Dakota; Henry Hanning, at Shaw Lake, Apache county, Dakota; Horace B. Crandall, at Colfax, Dakota; E. K. McCoy, at Athol, Dakota; Wm. F. Rierstorff, at Verona, Wis.; Albert Grelle, at Timothy, Manitowish county, and John A. Jones, at Home, Trempealeau county, Wis. The two last named offices were recently established. Alonzo

M. Hills is appointed postmaster at the recently established postoffice at Hutton, Clark county, Ill. Also, the following postmasters in Illinois: Thomas Kilgough, at Hanover; James M. Malone, at Steadville; John H. Walley, at Fern Ridge; Joseph W. Hart, at Lake Bluffs.

REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The Illinois delegation met and elected Colonel George R. Davis, of the Second District, as a member of the Republican Congressional committee for the State. At the Republican caucus of the house, held later, the following names were presented by the various delegations to compose the committee:

Alabama—J. Q. Smith.
California—H. F. Page.
Connecticut—J. T. Wait.
Florida—Horatio Bisbee.
Illinois—George R. Davis.
Indiana—W. H. Calkins.

Tennessee—L. C. Houk.
Virginia—J. F. Dezenendorf.
Wisconsin—T. C. Pound.

The Colorado, Nebraska, and Vermont delegations have not yet elected a member. There will be quite a contest over the election of the President and Executive Committee. Mr. Hubbell of Michigan and Eugene Hale, of Maine, will be the leading candidates probably.

Love Your Neighbor.

When your friend or neighbor is laboring under bodily affliction, indigestion, biliousness, constipation, caused by impurity of blood, or disorders of the kidneys or liver, don't fail to recommend BUCKEY BLOOD BITTERS, a sure and safe remedy. Price $1.00, trial size 10 cents.

Sold by A. J. Roberts and Sherer & Co.

WILL BE HUNG.

CHICAGO, March 21.—But two days remain for Gales, or Galus, the murderer of Haesselt, in which to prepare himself for the doom imposed by the sentence of the court. He will be hanged Friday morning, unless the Executive authority to stop the execution is interposed. He does not seem to be discouraged, and has strong hopes that the Governor will give a lease of life beyond Friday. His friends interpret the delay of the Governor in making known his decision as favorable to Gales. If he intends to allow the sentence of the court to stand he would, they argue, have notified the sheriff before this to give him time enough for the preparations for the execution. The sheriff, however, has everything in readiness, and can have the scaffold erected on short notice. In the meantime Gales is giving himself no unusual uneasiness. He believes his sentence will be commuted, and as long as he is in this condition of mind the jailer allows nothing to be said or done that would make him despondent. The proof of the absence of any mental strain is in the fact that he sleeps well, and since he has been in jail he has developed an appetite that is ravens compared with that of some of the other prisoners. His manner in general is unchanged from the day he was locked up. Having become acquainted in the jail, he is perhaps more talkative.

The execution, if it takes place, will be private, none but a jury, county officials, and press representatives being allowed to witness it.

RESCUED FROM DEATH.

The following statement of William J. Coughlin, of Somerville, Mass., is so remarkable that we beg to ask for it the attention of our readers. He says: "In the fall of 1876, I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs, followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and flesh. I was so weak at one time that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1877 I was admitted to the City Hospital. While there the doctors said I had a hole in my left lung as big as a half dollar. I expended over a hundred dollars in doctors and medicines. I was so far gone at one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of DR. WM. HALL'S BALM FOR THE LUNGS. I laughed at my friends, thinking that my case was incurable, but I got a bottle to satisfy them, when, to my surprise and gratification, I commenced to feel better. My hope, once dead, began to revive, and to-day I feel in better spirits than I have for three years. I write this hoping you will publish it, so that every one afflicted with Disordered Lungs will be induced to take DR. WM. HALL'S BALM FOR THE LUNGS, and be convinced that CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED. I have taken two bottles, and can positively say that it has done more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my sickness. My cough has almost entirely disappeared, and I shall soon be able to go to work." Sold by druggists.

SMALL POX.

MILWAUKEE, March 21.—A case of small-pox developed at the Live-Oak House, a small Third Ward hotel, to-day. The victim is John Borse, a dock laborer. He was taken to the hospital. Dr. Marden says that the ignorant classes are very stubborn in their opposition to vaccination, and that if they could in some way be impressed with the horror of small-pox there would be less danger of an epidemic. The disease is by no means dead here, as proven by the new cases from day to day.

AN AGREEABLE DRESSING FOR THE HAIR, that will stop the falling hair, being out-sought for Parker's Hair Balsam, distinguished for its fully supplies this want.

Shoppers.

—It is no use for wolves to try and live in this town, the hunters make it so hot for them that they are apt to die.

A. M. Bowles has sold one half his stock of goods to Dr. A. B. Manley, and hereafter the firm will be Bowles & Manley.

—S. K. Sweet has taken a position in the store of Bowles & Manley. He has a good deal of experience in the "Express business" and ought to be able to weigh out "nails."

Miss Flora A. Clarke held a re-union and picnic with her scholars at the school house last Tuesday. Her school was closed so abruptly by the measles that she wished to meet them all again before going to Ohio. The exercises were very pleasant, and the little ones seemed to enjoy themselves very much, yet there was a sad look on their faces, knowing that their teacher who had been with them for the past four years, was going to leave them.

—Our school commenced March 20th, which is about two weeks earlier than the spring term usually commences.

—Smith, the veterinary man, is full of business. He is now putting in glass eyes for those who have one-eyed horses. He can suit his customers with any color even to "pink-eye." He had a very young case of hog cholera the other day, an immediate cure was effected by putting the bottle to his (Smith's) mouth. The bottle was fixed with a rubber cork.

—Mr. Wm. Dresser, of Hillsdale, Mich. is visiting his brother, Rev. E. L. Dresser, of this village.

—F. N. Parker has returned from Huron, Dakota, and gives a very favorable report. He has purchased a farm there and expects to take out his stock about the 1st of May.

—Mrs. Randall has returned from her daughters, in Clinton, Iowa.

—The sad intelligence of the death of Mrs. Hiram Cooper and her little daughter two weeks old, at Houston, Kansas, reached here Monday. Hiram Cooper will be remembered by many as a resident of one village for a number of years, when he removed to Clinton with his brother, Solon Cooper. He has been in Kansas about eight years, and not finding it very profitable to stay there was preparing to remove to Clinton Wis., with his family when this sad bereavement overtook him. He has the sympathy of many friends here.

—Ed Case is preparing to make improvements on his new home. He makes a good city resident.

—D. Valen has on exhibition a new reaper which it will pay every farmer to examine. It cuts on the same principal as the harvester and thus reduces the draft one half.

Grateful Women.

None receive so much benefit, and none are so profoundly grateful, and show such an interest in recommending Hop Bitters as women. It is the only remedy peculiarly adapted to the many ills the sex is almost universally subject to. Chills and fever, indigestion or deranged liver, constant or periodical sick headaches, weakness in the back or kidneys, pain in the shoulders and different parts of the body, a feeling of lassitude and despondency, are all readily removed by these Bitters.

Donations.

About a week ago it was announced that there would be a donation held at Holbrook's hall on the evening of March 15th. At the appointed hour the many friends and neighbors of Rev. H. Deal, our worthy pastor of the United Brethren church, gathered in till the hall was filled to overflowing. The evening was passed in social converse, games and by refreshing the inner man; after which the participants dispersed leaving with the older the neat little sum of $80, together with their best wishes for his future success and happiness. Judging from our standpoint, we should say that a more joyous evening has not been passed by the residents of Lima for many a day.

WOMEN ARE EVERY USING and recommending Parker's Ginger Tonic, because they have learned from experience that it speedily cures indigestion, indigestion, pain or weakness in the back and kidneys, and other troubles peculiar of the sex.—Home Journal. See adv.

Clinton.

—John Kimball has left his farm and moved into his house in the village opposite the Congregational church. Mr. Meeseck and family have moved onto Mr. Kimball's farm, and will work it the ensuing season.

—The Dea. Bruce house on Quality hill is not empty.

—J. D. Bruce's house will be ready to occupy in a few days. The recent open weather has been favorable for building.

—C. C. Marston has sold the Clinton Herald to Mr. Brown, of Milton, who comes highly recommended as a man and an editor, and will meet with a hearty welcome.

—G. G. Bronson, who has been teaching in Iowa the past winter, spent the Sabbath with Clinton friends. He was on his way to Vermont.

—A few Clinton men who think they see wealth in Colorado mines, organized the "Clinton mining company" last Saturday, and filed their articles of incorporation with the secretary of state.

—Those who have teaming to do and hauling of heavy loads, think that they are having a serious time. Since the 20th of last September there have been but a few days when the roads could be called good.

—The meetings at the M. E. church still continue, and much interest is manifested.

It is useless to deny that the brightest and fairest fall easy victims to consumption, and equally fruitless to ignore the fact that decline has its origin in many cases in neglected catarrh. Sanford's Radical Cure is a pure, sweet, balsamic specific.

A boot and shoe shop hangs out the sign: "Cast iron lasts." We all know it does, but we don't want any boots made of it.

Fogg says his friend Pingry is so slow that he never catches cold, and couldn't get within hailing distance of the slowest of slow fivers.

A woman may offer in excuse for her red nose that she laces too tightly, and a man can offer the same excuse. He also gets "tightly" by lacing himself.

"What is your name?" a lady asked a little friend the other day. "Arthur S. P." was the prompt reply. "What does S. stand for?" "Stand for?" he repeated. "Why, it stands for the middle of my name."

"The lurid flames shot their red tongues of fire high up toward the glowing heavens, as if they were in their vengeful fury, endeavoring to sear the bright faces of the twinkling stars!" It was only a $50 stable, containing $25 worth of hay, but the reporter felt that way, and really couldn't help it.

It was at a railway station. The trains were being made up. Puff went the locomotive, whirr went the wheels, and the whistling was terrific. There were backing and forwarding and all manner of shunting on a labyrinth of rails. "What the deuce are they doing?" "Practising for an accident," was the reply.

Drs. F. and P., two Lowell physicians of repute, annually go on a hunting trip together. They were getting ready to start, and in conversation with a lady Dr. P. gallantly remarked: "Miss B., what kind of game do you like best?" "I like whist best," responded the lady. "I'll try and shoot one for you," said the courteous Dr. P.

The man who tried to explain away his chicken-stealing experience by saying that he was a member of the humane society and felt that it was his duty to thin out the over-crowded hen-coops for the sake of giving them better ventilation had his board paid for ninety days by an appreciative community. No body's talents need go to seed in this country.

She sported a wart on the end of her nose, she had false teeth and a glass eye, her hair was red, her face freckled, and she was pigeon-toed and wore a No. 8 gaiter. In spite of all this she resigned the love of a beautiful maiden to marry her. And was he happy? He was. Why? Easy enough. He had been a newspaper man for fifteen years, and the girl was rich.

Peanut flirtation: Breaking the shell gently—I am mashed on you. Crushing it savagely—Why will you break my heart? Slipping the shell into the pocket—We must be secret. Throwing it away—You are fired out. Swallowing the peanut—I'm yours alone. Eating mincingly—Go slow. Tossing it up and catching it dexterously in the mouth—Some other evening.

A Chicago man visiting Cincinnati was being shown round by a citizen, who said: "Now, let's go and see the widow's home." The Chicago man put his finger by the side of his nose and winked, and then said: "Not much. Mary Ann, I saw a widow home once and it cost me $16,000. She sued me for breach of promise and proved it on me. Yes, sir; send the widow home in a hack."

When a young man who has been educated to adore the beautiful, to worship the good and the true, to trace his soul with the rainbow hues of the imagination, and wrap his spirit in the gossamer drapery of fancy—when a young man of his description is mistaken for a tom cat, while crawling surreptitiously over a backyard fence to keep a secret tryst with the idol of his heart, and an empty soda water bottle, violently launched from a third-story window, catches him in the diaphragm, he does not howl and go on like common dogs, but lies just where he fell, amid the panicles and geraniums and composes his epitaph.

The Bank of England.

The Bank of England is governed by a Board of Directors, a Governor and a Deputy Governor. The Board of Directors is, in fact, self electing. The offices of Governor and Deputy Governor are given in rotation; the Deputy Governor always succeeds the Governor, and usually the oldest Director who has not been in office becomes Deputy Governor.

It is usually about twenty years from the time of a man's first election that he arrives, as it is called, at the chair; accordingly Bank Directors, when first chosen by the board, are always young men. Some of the Directors retire annually, but by courtesy it is always the young ones; those who have passed the chair—that is, who have served the office of Governor—always remain; the young part of the board is the fluctuating part, and the old part is the permanent part.

The chief members of the board—that is, those who have passed the air—form a standing committee of infinite powers—to precise description has ever been given of them; and this committee are called the Committee of Treasury. In the English sense, no "backer" has a chance of being a Bank Director. The mass of the Bank Directors are merchants of experience, employing a considerable capital in trades in which they have been brought up, and with which they are well acquainted. Many of them have information as to the present course of trade, and as to the character and wealth of merchants, which is most valuable, or, rather, is all but invaluable, to the bank. The Governor and Deputy Governor, who form the executive, change every two years. There are twenty-four Directors, a Governor and a Deputy Governor, making a court of twenty-six persons, and the court meets only once a week, and then but for a short time. The management of the entire public debt of Great Britain is in the hands of the bank, for which service it receives a compensation, which has from time to time varied in amount according to circumstances. Says Adam Smith: "The (bank) acts not only as an ordinary bank, but as a great engine of state. She receives and pays the greater part of the annuities which are due to the creditors of the public; she circulates exchequer bills; she advances to the Government the annual amount of the land and malt taxes, which are frequently not paid till some years thereafter."
